Introduction

A lack of socioeconomic diversity within medical student bodies continues to be an issue, including medical students having significantly higher parental education, occupation, and income than the Canadian population. By reducing a financial barrier, the Medical School Application Fee Waiver Program may contribute to the socioeconomic diversity of students enrolled in Canada’s medical schools to ensure that the profession reflects the communities it serves; this is a necessary step toward equitably serving the Canadian population’s health needs.

This program was collaboratively developed by the Price of a Dream (POD), the Association of Faculties of Medicine of Canada (AFMC), the Council of Ontario Faculties of Medicine (COFM), and the Ontario Universities’ Application Centre (OUAC) in 2021 for Ontario. In 2022, the University of Alberta and the University of Saskatchewan also began offering fee waiver programs, in total there are three Medical School Application Fee Waiver Programs available in this application cycle. All the organizations listed are committed to providing support to Canadian students who would either be unable to afford to apply to medical school or would undergo significant financial strain by attempting to apply to medical school without financial assistance. For more information on the specific requirements, please refer to the Table of Contents and read about each program prior to applying.

Application Instructions

Assessment Criteria

AFMC will determine award recipients based on demonstrated financial need and personal statement. Due to the limited number of awards, the following criteria will be used to assess all applicants:

1. Income eligibility check

Based on the applicant's pre-tax income and the pre-tax incomes of their parents (if under 25 years old), in accordance with Canadian low-income thresholds, which can be found at:

<https://www.canada.ca/en/services/benefits/education/student-aid/grants-loans/full-time.html>

2. Ranking applicants based on their deficit level

The deficit level for each applicant will be determined by adding the applicant's income and any financial assistance received and then subtracting from that amount the cost of annual living expenses (e.g., groceries, rent, utilities, childcare, public transportation pass) and factoring in the annual interest on applicant's total student debt load. The resulting number will either be a surplus or a deficit.

The applicants considered to be in the greatest financial need will be those in the highest deficit position. As there are a limited number of awards, applicants with the highest deficit will receive the award.

See page 10 for further details on how the deficit level is calculated.

3. A personal statement provided by the applicant in the application form may be considered when determining award recipients.

What you need to apply

To apply for the Fee Waiver Program, you will need to have available the following information and documentation:

- Proof of income (Notice of Assessment) for the 2024 or 2025 calendar year for yourself, your spouse (if applicable) and all of your living parents along with a signed form from each individual providing information for this application

It is not sufficient to provide details of any active loans related to a specific time-period, the information provided must cover your life-time disbursement history.

I accidentally made a mistake on my application, but I can't change it. What do I do?

If there is an error in your application and it has already been submitted for consideration, you must send an Error Explanation Letter to mcat-fap-paf@afmc.ca. An AFMC agent will review your request and support correction to your application. Error correction requests will only be considered prior to the application window closing.

What if my parents aren't living in Canada? What do I do about their location and their income?

If your parents live outside of Canada, you may use your own location (province/territory) when inputting their location and include a note flagging this in your personal statement. Use a currency converter to convert their income to Canadian dollars.

How will I know if I qualify for Fee Waiver Program?

In order to qualify for Fee Waiver Assistance, your income and that of your spouse (if applicable) and your parents must be equal to or less than the Canadian low-income threshold, which can be found at:

<https://www.canada.ca/en/services/benefits/education/student-aid/grants-loans/full-time.html>

Note that the awards available for Fee Waiver Program are limited in number, therefore, of all the qualified applicants who submit complete applications, only a limited number will be awarded the fee waiver as determined by highest need.

I am an international student studying in Canada. Am I eligible for Fee Waiver Assistance?

To be eligible for Fee Waiver Program, you must be a legal resident of Canada with permission to live and work in Canada without any time limit on your stay.

My income is below the poverty guidelines. Why was I denied?

Here are some reasons that your application may have been denied:

- Your application was incomplete.
- Your parent(s) income did not meet eligibility requirements. Parental financial information is viewed independently from applicant data but must also fall within eligibility guidelines.
- The income or family size for yourself or your parent(s) is incorrect. It would be a good idea to compare the income levels you entered against your Notice of Assessment you were planning to submit. If you find that you incorrectly entered this data during the “Check Eligibility” step, simply resubmit using the correct information. If the error is in your actual application, please contact us by email at mcat-fap-paf@afmc.ca.

As there are a limited number of awards, fee waiver is given to recipients with the greatest financial need.

When will I be notified and/or approved if I have been selected to receive a fee waiver?

Notification to all applicants regarding the result of their application for Fee Waiver Program will be released based on the information found in the Important Dates section above.

Which browser should I use to have the best access to the application Portal?

Although the AFMC Student Portal will work with most web browsers and operating systems, the AFMC recommends registrants to use the Portal with Google Chrome. The Portal is not designed for mobile devices, for this reason, we highly recommend registrants to use a PC or Mac when submitting applications.

How do I calculate my annual living expenses?

Take into account your monthly living expenses and then multiply this total by 12 (total months in the year) in order to get your annual living expenses. Include only the expenses for which you are personally responsible to pay. Examples of monthly living expenses include rent, food, childcare, public transportation, etc.

When I created my account, I was told a verification email would be sent to me. How come I never received it?

Be sure that there were no mistakes in the email address you provided when creating your account. Also, be sure to check your spam folder.

Can you provide examples for the assessment of income eligibility and ranking of applications?

Example 1: Consider the case of Geoff, a 23-year-old applying for the program with the following information.

Information	Value
Citizenship	Permanent Resident
Age (Years)	23
Province/Territory of Residence	Saskatchewan
Marital Status	Single
Family Size	3
Personal Gross Income	$32,000
Parent 1 Gross Income	$28,000
Parent 2 Gross Income	$0
Housing/Food Assistance	$0
Foreign Income	$0
Assistance from Federal, Provincial or Local Social Programs	$0
Other financial gifts or financial support from family, friends, or other entity	$1,000
Total amount of child support received	$0
Total amount of other income received	$500
Total outstanding student debt	$25,000
Annual interest cost for student debt (only if being charged)	$0
Total annual living expenses you are directly responsible for	$38,600

Step 1: Income Eligibility Check

Given that Geoff is under 25 years of age his parent's gross income is considered for the income eligibility check.

$$$32,000 \text{ (Personal)} + $28,000 \text{ (Parent 1)} + $0 \text{ (Parent 2)} = $60,000$$

The cut-off for a family of 3 is $63,760. Therefore, Geoff has passed the income eligibility check and may proceed with an application.

Step 2: Calculation of Deficit/Surplus Position

The deficit/surplus position is based off of the applicant's income, other sources of income, and their annual living expenses.

$$$32,000 \text{ (Personal Gross Income)} + $1,000 \text{ (Other financial gifts or financial support from family, friends, or other entity)} + $500 \text{ (Total amount of other income received)} = \mathbf{$33,500}$$

$$\mathbf{\text{Total annual living expenses you are directly responsible for} = $38,600}$$

$$\mathbf{\text{Deficit/Surplus Position} = $33,500 - $38,600 = \mathbf{-$5,100}}$$

Geoff is in a deficit position of $5,100 annually.

Note: Student debt does not enter into the equation for calculating a deficit/surplus position. If your student loans are in repayment and you are being charged interest that expense will be included in your calculations.

Example 2: Consider the case of Marisa, a 28-year-old applying for the program with the following information.

Information	Value
Citizenship	Canadian Citizen
Age (Years)	28
Province/Territory of Residence	Saskatchewan
Marital Status	Married
Family Size	4
Personal Gross Income	$28,000
Spouse Gross Income	$28,000
Housing/Food Assistance	$9,800
Foreign Income	$0
Assistance from Federal, Provincial or Local Social Programs	$3,000
Other financial gifts or financial support from family, friends, or other entity	$0
Total amount of child support received	$0
Total amount of other income received	$0
Total outstanding student debt	$30,000
Annual interest cost for student debt (only if being charged)	$1,000
Total annual living expenses you are directly responsible for	$38,600

Step 1: Income Eligibility Check

Given that Marisa is over 25 years old her parents’ income is not included in the income eligibility check. However, as she is married her spouse’s income will be considered.

$$$28,000 \text{ (Personal)} + $28,000 \text{ (Spouse)} = $56,000$$

The cut-off for a family of 4 is $73,624. Therefore, Marisa has passed the income eligibility check and may proceed with an application.

Step 2: Calculation of Deficit/Surplus Position

The deficit/surplus position is based off of the applicant’s income, other sources of income, and their annual living expenses.

$$$28,000 \text{ (Personal Gross Income)} + $9,800 \text{ (Housing/food assistance)} + $3,000 \text{ (Assistance from federal, provincial or local social programs)} = \mathbf{$40,800}$$

$$$45,000 \text{ (Total annual living expenses you are directly responsible for)} + $1,000 \text{ (Annual interest cost for student debt)} = $46,000$$

$$\mathbf{\text{Deficit/Surplus Position}} = $40,800 - $46,000 = \mathbf{-$5,200}$$

Marisa is in a deficit position of $5,200 annually.

As Marisa’s student debt is in repayment the cost of that interest is included in the calculations.
